

Who is COTA?

COTA is the peak body dedicated to representing older Australians. We have offices in every capital city and we can cater for older people everywhere in Australia.

What do we do?

We inform and influence federal, state & local government plus the business sector and the general community to deliver better outcomes for people aged 50 and over. We have been doing this for 60 years now.

Also, we help raise awareness of the contributions that older people continue to make to the Australian community.

How do we do it?

COTA is invited to sit on a wide range of forums, committees, advisory groups and research bodies, both government and non-government. These are the groups that have the power to bring about positive change.

We seek the views of our members. We ask, "what concerns you as an older person?" and then we act on that information.

Why should I join?

As well as the ability to provide more programs, services and support, an engaged membership enables COTA to become more influential when fighting for better outcomes for older Australians. The more members, the louder our voice!

And as a way of saying thank you for your support, when you join your state or territory COTA, you'll receive great COTA Membership benefits and discounts.
